Want Sonoma Post Office Lease For Former Bank Building

Local Officers Join San Quentin Prison Guards In Man Hunt

MOVE TO CHANGE PRESENT LOCATION OF OFFICE PROPOSED

Former First National Bank Quarters Offered Government; Petition Appears In Opposition to Change.

With the announcement that the former First National Bank building on the west side of the Plaza had been offered as a location for the Sonoma postoffice when the lease of present quarters expires in August, a petition was immediately circulated by property owners of the east side of town opposing any change. The post office is now located in a concrete building owned by the Poppe estate and was erected for the purpose of housing the office, the late R. A. Poppe having signed up Uncle Sam for the 10 year lease now about to expire.

The offer of new quarters comes from Fred Batto, owner of the First National Bank building and the Mercantile Trust Company of California, to whom he had the building leased prior to the Mercantile's merger with the Valley National Bank, and acquirement of that bank building.

The two locations which will be considered by the government for the Sonoma post office are similar in that both are in the middle of parallel blocks, one on the east side and the other on the west side of the town square. The post office was formerly on the west side of town, but for more than 30 years has been located in the vicinity of its present quarters.

Property owners and patrons of the post office residing in the vicinity of the proposed new site are enthusiastic over the offer of Mr. Batto, who claims his bank building meets every requirement and has additional facilities which will commend it to the inspectors of the two properties to be considered.

WOMEN'S FARM SCORES A VICTORY

In a test vote in the assembly at Sacramento Thursday the measure to appropriate $150,000 to restore the delinquent women's farm won by a substantial majority. If you are interested in keeping this institution out of Sonoma Valley, wire Gov. Richardson

Stately Old Home Has Been Opened Again

The stately old home of the Watiss family, near Agua Caliente, closed for many years but kept sacredly intact by the late Franklin Watriss, recently deceased, has been re-opened by the present owners and beneficiaries of the estate, Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Serres. The old mansion, never completed in the lifetime of the builders, is a treasure house of antiques, relics and rare old books. Mr. Serres later plans to finish the house along the original lines intended by the Watrisses, two sisters and two brothers, none of whom ever married, and all of whom are now deceased. They were society leaders in their day, descendants of a famous New York family. Their father kept the old Astor House in New York City in the forties.

ADVERTISE FOR BIDS FOR NEW FIRE ENGINE

The Sonoma City trustees met last Wednesday in adjourned session, and City Attorney Posthelwaite was present. The most important matter up for action was the preliminaries necessary to the purchase of the new fire engine. City Trustee and Fire Chief Jep Valente reported sufficient money donated to make the first payment, and the city attorney thereupon drew up a call for bids for the purchase of the new apparatus. The advertisement appears in this issue of the Index-Tribune.

Louis Picetti, Broadway property owner, was granted a permit to remodel with galvanized iron a shed on his new service station site.

Some phases of the rights of way for the proposed sewer system extension to tide water were talked over, particularly as to traversing county property, the easements granted by the supervisors not being in the proper form according to the city attorney.

Local tailors protested the practice of outside tailors soliciting business in Sonoma and asked the city dads to make the custom prohibitive by high license requirements.

Bridge repairs to the span on Germany street were discussed before adjournment.

Deputy Sheriff Recovers Stolen Brandy And Gives Evidence To Federal Authorities

Clever detective work on the part of Deputy Sheriff Ryan, working day and night on the liquor theft from the Sebastiani warehouse has resulted in the recovery of the four barrels of brandy and the uncovering of a local liquor ring which has systematically been stealing booze for some time past. In addition to the theft at the Sebastiani warehouse, Ryan has evidence that the same culprits entered the Sorini cellars a week previous and got away with considerable wine.

After the Sebastiani warehouse was broken into and a truck used to haul away liquor stolen there, the Sonoma officers and federal operatives began a probe of the circumstances. Intimations that it was an "inside" job was flouted by Ryan, who was convinced that it was stolen by a local gang and had been hidden, that the booze might later be peddled. Several suspects were shadowed and suspicious movements on their part long after midnight when the town slept convinced the deputy sheriff, who kept vigil, that he was trailing the right parties. The trail led to the vicinity of Buena Vista and Tuesday night the liquor cache was uncovered by the officers down a steep embankment of a creek near the Ritz ranch. The four barrels, covered over with brush, were intact and contained all but eight gallons of the liquor which had evidently been siphoned out by the thieves for their own use.

Upon making the big find, the deputy sheriff summoned Garry Bartoli, local garage man, and his hoisting apparatus the four barrels were pulled out of the creek, loaded on a truck and brought to the city hall. The officer then notified the federal authorities that he had the liquor and also turned over all the other evidence he had gathered in connection with the robbery.

Sam Sebastiani, owner of the branry, was apprised by telegram to New York that his stolen goods had been recovered and immediately wired his appreciation of the good work done by the officer, not only in clearing up the disappearance of the wet goods, but in recovering it.

Deputy Sheriff Ryan has a reputation for recovering stolen loot and whether it is dry goods or wet goods usually gets back stolen stuff when he gets on the trail of it.

It is reported that warrants have been issued in San Francisco for three well known local young men and will be served today.

Vineyardist To Claim Fair Bride On June 6th

Arthur Kunde, prominent young vineyardist of Glen Ellen, will claim Miss Catherine M. Houweling of San Francisco as his bride on Saturday, June 6th. The wedding will be a brilliant one, to be celebrated at the Palace Hotel in the metropolis.

The bride, beautiful daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. Houweling, of San Francisco, will be attended by her sister, Miss Bessie Houweling, while Walter Hefty of Melita will be best man. About 60 or more guests will be bidden to the wedding, among them a number of Sonoma Valley friends of the groom, who is being heartily congratulated on his approaching nuptials to Miss Houweling, one of San Francisco's fairest daughters. The bride-to?be was born in Holland but has held a responsible position for some years past with the Southern Pacific Company. She is one of several attractive sisters.

In preparation of the happy event, Mr. Kunde is having his beautiful home, Wildwood, renovated and artistically furnished. The large residence, which is surrounded by several hundred acres of vineyard, commands a view of the entire Sonoma Valley and is one of the finest places on the highway between here and Santa Rosa.

Mr. Kunde will bring his bride here to reside following a motor wedding trip in a new sedan which he has already ordered.

Mr. and Mrs. Emil Pinelli will soon move into their beautiful new residence on Napa street.

Sold Original Manuscripts of Jack London

The recent visit of a representative of the Henry E. Huntington library foundation, of Southern California, to the Jack London ranch at Glen Ellen, was for the purpose of purchasing original manuscripts of the late author, including his stories, "The Valley of the Moon," "Before Adam," "White Fang" and "Martin Eden." Many of these stories were written on the ranch by London and his method of writing them is detailed by his widow, Charmian London, in her recent biography of the late genius. The manuscripts brought a handsome price and will thus be preserved to posterity. The Huntington library is interested also in the purchase of private correspondence of London, and will return later in the year to negotiate for them.

ANOTHER ACCIDENT AS CARS COLLIDE

Another bad auto accident on the Sonoma-Santa Rosa road occurred on Monday night about 8:30 o'clock when a Willys Knight roadster driven by Bruce Spencer, a hardware salesman, crashed into a Ford truck in which J. Blackman, of El Verano, his wife and three children were coming from Santa Rosa. The cars side-swiped, and as a result of the collision both the Ford and the Willys Knight had a wheel torn off while Mrs. Blackman was badly cut as a result of the accident. The drummer and his companion escaped injury.

Officers summoned to the scene were unable to determine responsibility for the collision, authough the Spencer roadster showed that it had not been able to stop for approximate ly 100 yards. due to the speed it was traveling, while the Blackman truck was stopped in its tracks by the impact.

Blackman claims that the drummer was traveling at an excessive speed and was totally at fault. As a result of the collision the truck, which was not insured, was a complete wreck.

Spencer's car, also injured, was taken to a Santa Rosa garage. The traveling man was insured.

DEPUTY SHERIFF JOE RYAN TRAILS ESCAPED CONVICTS

Watched Bridges and Hihgways for San Quentin Escapes Who Are Believed To Have Made Get-Away.

The escaped convicts, Frank Hall and Joe Tano, life termers from San Quentin, are believed to have been in the hills between here and Petaluma Friday night and Saturday of last week. Captain E. J. Hibbs and Guard Reede joined with Deputy Sheriff Joe Ryan, Constable Mohr and Deputy Eberhardt when news of the convicts' flight from Petaluma aroused all the country between here and Petaluma.

Ryan and his aides were out all night seeking the trail of the desperados. They threw a cordon out across the highway and also along the S. P. tracks, hoping to trap the escapes as they sought to flee from this section. The vigil was unrewarded, however, and it is believed that the men kept to the hills after fleeing from Petaluma and made their way along the ridge to Santa Rosa, where they kidnapped a man, Nels Peterson, coming from church Sunday evening, forced him into the car he owned and made him drive them toward Novato as they held a gun to his side. Running out of gas the men bound their victim to a tree, gagged him and escaped in his car.

The car was later found near Davis where it had been abandoned. In Sacramento the supposed convicts help up another man and were frightened off by the police.

They are still at large.

ATTENDED MEETING AT SANTA ROSA

The official visit of the department heads of the American Legion and women's auxiliary at Santa Rosa this week was the occasion of a splendid gathering of Legion representatives from all over this section. Mrs. Lily Samuels of Oakland, head of the auxiliary of California, and Mrs. Eliza Shepard of Glen Ellen attended and were among speakers of the evening.

A drive to assure Sonoma county's quota of $100,000 to aid in the nation wide campaign to aid orphans and ex-service men will be launched shortly.

New Bath House and Theatre Now Being Built At Boyes Hot Springs

An outlay of over $50,000 will be expended toward making Boyes Springs one of the finest pleasure and health resorts in the West. To that end the company has engaged E. D. Meier, San Rafael contractor and builder, to take charge of building construction, and Mr. Meier has chosen the most artistic of Spanish types for the new buildings, as shown herewith. The work will be completed by June 15th, when the palatial new bath house with its steel frame glass enclosed roof will be thrown open to the public for both day and night bathing. There will be a sun lounge, barber shop and beauty and massage parlors besides other features of a high class recreation resort, including the moving picture theatre with a seating capacity of 1000, and the spacious maple dance floor.

Tonight, April 18th, is the big dance given under the auspices of the Sonoma Council, Y. M. I. Sayer's orchestra of Santa Rosa has been engaged to furnish the latest and best music. Union Hall, Sonoma, has been beautifully decorated with the assistance of the Young Ladies' Institute, and the members of the Council have been working hard in anticipation of the big time. Many outside visitors will be guests of the Council, and Sonoma Valley dance lovers will largely attend. Former dances given by the members of this popular society have packed the hall, and tonight will be one of the best dances ever given in Sonoma Valley.

Albert Smith, a popular and leading native son of San Francisco, has been spending his annual vacation at the Burkhart Resort. Mr. Smith, who is a mail carrier in San Francisco, has enjoyed his visit here.

Johnnie Jordan, crack San Francisco boxer, accompanied by K. O. Robat of Los Angeles, has been working out at Parente's training amp. Both boys are comers and have fought the best of them. Roberts is a knock out king and drops his opponents for the count every time. He is undefeated.

Jack Silver, former Sonoma boy, may be matched with Ace Hodkins, who recently defeated Joe Benjamin, of Hollywood, at Los Angeles. Benjamin recently defeated Silver, and the local boy will have a chance to show his stuff and stage a comeback. The bout will be watched with interest, and as Silver is long and rangy, he may be able to stand of the Eastern boxer.

Last Saturday was George Colgan's 35th anniversary as an employye of the S. P. Company, on the Santa Rosa branch as baggage man. Mr. Colgan was receiving congratulations along the line and is still able to handle the work like a young fellow and looks as young and spry as he was when he pulled out of Santa Rosa on his initial trip. He resides in Santa Rosa with his family and is one of the last of the old time railroad men left in the service of the company.

CAVE DALE MAIL CARRIER ROBBED

Ben Hicken, the Cave Dale mail carrier who had re-established himself after being burned out after the disastrous fire two years ago, had the misfortune to be robbed recently of all his blankets, utensils and other cabin furnishings. Petty thieves went througn his little house in the hills while the mail carrier was on duty and stripped it of everything they could carry away.

As one neighbor declared, honest burglars would positively not rob a man who had so little and such hard luck already.

Mr. and Mrs. Shepherd of Missouri who have been here this winter visiting their daughter, Mrs, Nolan, in the Lehrke Tract, will shortly return home, going first to Los Angeles where they will stop off to visit their son, who resides there.

Mrs. Papina and daughter spent Easter Sunday in San Francisco, where they also viewed the fleet.

TEAM WORK ALWAYS PAYS

(From Petaluma Argus)

Co-operation is the watchword of twentieth century progress. When the citizens of a community fail to co-operate, that city lacks progress. When farmers fail to co-operate, farm products are not economically and efficiently marketed. When the merchants of a community do not co-operate in their own interest, the result is long hours of labor, ruinous price-cutting and unsatisfactory conditions generally. In fact, co-operation is what makes the world go 'round, particularly the business world—which reminds us of the old rhyme about the two jackasses:

Two fool jackasses—say, get this dope—
Were tied together with a piece of rope.
Said one to the other: "You come my way,
While I take a nibble at this new mown hay."
"I won't," said the other, "you come with me,
For I, too, have some hay, you see."

So they got nowhere, just pawed up the dirt.
And oh, by golly, that rope did hurt.
Then they faced about, those stubborn mules,
And said, "We're acting just like human fools.
Let's pull together; I'll go your way,
Then come with me and we'll both eat hay."

Wel, they ate their hay, and they liked it, too,
And swore to be comrades good and true.
As the sun went down they were heard to bray:
"Ah, this is the end of a perfect day."

AIR FLIVVERS TO BE POPULAR

Now that Ford is perfecting airplanes, we suppose they will be christened Dizzies, to match up with Henry's famous Lizzies. At any rate, if Ford starts to making flying machines in commercial quantities people will have confidence that they will get you there and back, which is a new note in flying. Up to this time the traveling public preferred to stick to terra firma. Now there promises to be a decided change. Ford is to vanquish fear and engender confidence. If the famous manufacturer of dependable Fords says "come fly with me," all the country will take to the air. Already the restless populace has begun to feel the desire to fly—an ambition within which groups and would climb to aerial heights. We presume it will be no time now until the road hog is passe. The air hog will supercede him. Perhaps when all the dare-devils and road hogs go up there will be some peace for the rest of us here below.

PRESERVING THE STORY

In a number of communities of the State are to be noticed commendalbe efforts to preserve the memory of men, places and events linked with the story of California. Sacramen o would bring back to her soil from far-off Pennsylvania the body of General John H. Sutter. Sonoma asks the Legislature to appropriate a sum to restore her historic Mission. And down at Carmel men have found the original bells that rang out to summon the Indians to worship and to work.

To many it might seem a simple matter to request of Pennsylvania the right to bring the bones of General Sutter back to the seat of what was once his inland empire. Yet the way has been blocked with obstacles and it is only the determination of the Sacramento men interested that is wearing them away. Sutter's remains rest at Lelitz, a Moravian cemetery in the Eastern State. The cemetery association first demanded the written consent of every lineal descendant of General Sutter and when these were obtained after months of effort, a demand was made for the posting of a bond against the destruction or partial destruction of the cemetery in making the removal. Again as soon as the requirement was met another difficulty was encountered. Now the cemetery association says the State of Pennsylvania will not permit the moving of the body and those interested are forced to make overtures to high officials. The Sacramentans have raised $1500 and purpose to continue their efforts until success is met. There is so much of appropriateness in their labors that they have the support of all those who love the State's romantic past and who are familiar with the story of Suter and the vast domain which was his, as one out of an old world until the gold days came to stampede the harvest hands to the foothills.

It is Garnet Holme who has written to Senator Slater in an effort to have needed attention paid to Sonoma's Mission, which he says "stands as a monument to unintelligent neglect of the great mother, California."

The building and grounds are owned by the State and it is for that reason he hopes for Legislative action. The Carmel bells, taken from the ruins when the Mission there was allowed to crumble to pieces in 1861, have been found in Watsonville and have been restored. So there are two important movements under way for the perpetuation of California traditions and one successfully accomplished.—Oakland Tribune.

THE BANKER REGARDED AS A FRIEND

"Advertising has made bigger and better banks," declared Chrales Walters, cashier of the American Bank of Oakland, who spoke on "Modern Banking" at a recent lnucheon meeting of the Knights of the Round Table in Oakland. He described banks and bankers as no longer cultivating a frigid, taciturn behavior.

"The bank is no longer an ice house presided over by a frozen, hard boiled president," declared Walters. "It is making friends with the people. And it is making friends with its fellow-banks. The cut-throat days of banking are over, or very nearly so.

"Banks have many functions besides cashing checks and taking care of depositors' money. A good trust officer can tell you how he will handle your affairs after your demise so well that you will wish you had been dead for several years." He added:

"Banks are now engaged in educating people in finance. As a result of their efforts, many banks have gone out of business. This is not as bad as it sounds, for the sort of bank I represent does not care for their existence. They are the hole-in-the-wall, the baking powder can and the mattress banks. Even the lady's first national bank is on its last leg."

WILL NOW RESIDE IN ST. HELENA

Mr. and Mrs. Caesar Sebastiani left the first of the week for St. Helena, where they will make their future home. Mr. Sebastiani, who is a brother of Sam Sebastiani the cannery and wine man, has taken a position at one of the big wineries in Napa county. The aged father, Mr. Sebastiani, Sr., accompanied his son to the new home, where he will permanently reside.

Caesar Sebastiani and his wife leave many friends in Sonoma Valley who wish them happiness and prosperity in beautiful Napa counuty.

W. B. Warren and daughter, Estelle, and the former's mother, Mrs. E. K. Warren, motored to San Francisco last Saturday in their new Jewett car, which they recently purchased

Mrs. Louise McElroy had a visit from her daughters and grand daughters last Saturday, Mrs. Louise Skinner and pretty daughters of Petaluma, and Mrs. Edna Hall of Novato.

Miss Annie Laurenzi and L. Faure of San Francisco spent Easter Sunday with Miss Catherine Laurenzi and her father. Mr. Laurenzi's health is slightly improved.

Mrs. Ruth Baker of Verano gave a birthday dinner recently in honor of her sister, Mrs. Kinninook, of Glen Ellen.

Mrs. R. Rahwyler and her brother, Walter Peterson, of Richmond, were here for Easter, visiting their father and sisters.

RETIRED NAVY MAN DIES

W. D. Foley, retired navy man and native of South Carolina, who formerly resided here and was a brother-in-law of Mrs. P. Norrbom, died at his home in Oakland this week, of heart failure. Mr. Foley will be remembered as a genial gentleman whose wide travels and experiences made him most entertaining.

Deceased was chief engineer of the Leviathan during the World War and his thrilling days in the service of the government while transporting troops to France were recounted in the log of the ship he published in the columns of the Index-Tribune three years ago.

After his retirement from the service of Uncle Sam, Mr. Foley won his pension and his first wife having died here, he married a sister of Mrs. Mae Kistle Norrbom, by whom he had a little daughter. They established their home in Oakland and less than a month ago deceased visited Sonoma where he greeted a number of old friends.

The funeral took place Thursday with interment in the Presidio National cemetery, where the last honors accorded to those who have rendered loyal service to their government was accorded him.

DENY HOTEL PLANS FOR BOYES SPRINGS

Fred Partridge of the Boyes Hot Springs Company, denies the story published in a San Francisco paper that plans have been ordered for a two story re-inforced concrete building to cost $150,000. Several architects have submitted plans which, at some future time may be accepted, declares the Boyes Springs man, but at present there is no immdiate intent to replace the hotel destroyed by fire, as all energy and capital is being concentrated on the palatial bath house and theatre now in course of construction.

RICHARDSON HEADS DRIVE

State Commander Nathan Coombs of the American Legion has received the acceptance of Governor Richardson to act as chairman of the state committee for California in the drive to raise the state's quota of $400,000 in the $5,000,000 endowment drive of the Legion. The campaign for funds is to begin in May, according to Commander Coombs.

Governor Richardson issued a statement which said in part:

"It is with genuine pleasure that I accept the chairmanship of the state committee which is to direct the campaign for the American Legion endownment fund in California.

"The American Legion's program of rehabilitation and child welfare is just and economical and should receive the approval and active interest of every good American."

AGREES TO PROCEED WITH BAY BRIDGE

Plans will be immediately put into effect for the organization of the Golden Gate bridge assessment district following the action of the San Francisco Board of Supervisors.

With San Francisco at last committed to the principle of the bridging of the Golden Gate and entering with other counties into a district for the purpose of assessment to pay for the work, a number of preliminary steps must be taken before an election can be called and money voted.

Under the act passed by the legislature it will be necessary, it is stated, for an organization to be formed by each county passing specified ordinances. Then a Board of Directors must be appointed, of which San Francisco will have one-half.

High School News

By MILDRED STATES

Another evidence of the drive toward honestly is to be seen in the many posters that have been made and posted in the various rooms by students of the art class.

The new plan of student co-operation in assemblies has proved quite successful. At the last meeting Herbert Tracy told of his idea for keeping the school grounds clean. His words were so threatening that already there seems to be less paper scattered around. The businees meeting was followed by a program consisting of several selections by the orchestra, a trombone duet by Wallace Hall and Herbert Tracy, the reading of an opera by Margaret Corcoran and several papers on the subject of honesty.

The judges of the Sonoma county poultry contest visited the general agriculture class Monday. From here they went to Philip Karst's ranch to judge his poultry.

The more advanced students of the physics class are studying the history of the steam engine, steam turbine and the automobile.

Pillows, curtains and lamps. The interior decorating class states that the girls' rest room will soon be an attractive place.

The girls' physical education classes have been organized into separate squads, with real snappy names, such as the "rackerjacks," and the "Wild Cats," and are planning on living up to them. They have organized the point system and the winners will receive a reward. At present it has not been decided just what the reward will be.

The last candy sale given by the Girls' League was a big success. Bea Boyd and Marge Corcoran proved very proficient salesgirls.

BOYS ASLEEP IN STOLEN SEDAN ARE CAPTURED

While the all night search of Deputy Sheriff Joe Ryan and his aides for the two escapes from San Quentin failed to produce any trace of the wanted men, it led to the arrest of two Los Angeles boys and the recovery of an expensive sedan they had stolen in Oakland. The youths, Jacob Steinhart, 14, and Lazarus Belenausky, 15, were taken to the east bay city Saturday by two detectives.

Deputy Sheriff Ryan, Fred Eberhardt and Constable John Mohr were returning to town just before daybreak Saturday morning from their all night vigil along the railroad tracks when they came upon the sedan which had run off the road near Schellville. Examining the supposedly unoccupied machine they found the two boys asleep in the back seat.

Their answers to Ryan's questions were unsatisfactory, so he arrested them and later confessed having stolen the machine, the property of Don Quinn, Oakland.

In the possession of the boys was found a road map, upon which the route from Oakland to Portland, Oregon, had been marked out. They admitted that they had planned to drive to the Oregon metropolis.

WEDS FORMER SONOMA BOY

Miss Herschel Whitmore, former pretty telephone girl in the Sonoma exchange, and who later removed to San Francisco with her mother, was married Easter Sunday to Henry Palmer, Mare Island government employee and former Sonoma boy.

The romance, which culminated in the pretty but quiet wedding ceremony, began here in our Mission city when both the young folks resided here.

They will make their home in Valnilejo and will be wished the greatest happiness by a large circle of friends in Sonoma Valley.

POMEROY-McGUIRE WEDDING ON MAY 7th

The marriage of Miss Virginia Pomeroy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Campbell Pomeroy of Santa Rosa, to P. J. McGuire, of San Francisco, will be solemnized on the evening of Thursday, May 7th, at the Pomeroy residence. Rev. Father Ramon Mestres, of the San Carlos Mission at Monterey, will conduct the ceremony. Father Mestres is a very close friend of the Pomeroy family. Miss Pomeroy has known Father Mestres since her earliest childhood, hence his presence at the wedding is peculiarly fitting.

Miss Dorothy Daunt of Petaluma will be bridesmaid, and Ralph McGuire will support his brother. A large company of friends and relatives will witness the marriage, which, while simple in appointments will yet be one of the prettiest weddings of the year.

COUNTY TAXES TO BE DELINQUENT APRIL 27

It is announced that final payments on county taxes are due at the present time and will be delinquent after Monday, April 27th. County Tax Collector T. V. Butts states that payments will be received at Santa Rosa up to 6 o'clock that night, after which a 5 per cent assessment will be made on all amounts unpaid.

The list of delinquents this season gives prospects of being larger than in 1924.

Butts and his assistants are busy checking up former delinquent property owners and a clean-up drive will be started next week to get in touch with land owners who have not permanent address for receiving notices.

SONOMA FARM BILL DEAD

Tabling of Assembly bills 776 and 777, which provided for the re-establishing of the Sonoma Farm for Delinquent Women, was the fate of the measures in the Ways and Means Committee last week.

They are the aversion of Governor Friend Richardson and Robert Braden of the Board of Control, it is said.

LEGION OPENS FUND DRIVE FOR ORPHANS

"To keep the fatherless children of America's war heroes from dreary orphan asylums; to give every disabled veteran another chance; to leave happiness and content where the bitterness of war has lingered—this is what the American Legion Endowment Fund is for."

With these words Nathan F. Coombs, state commander of the American Legion, recently officially opened California activities in the $5,000,000 American Legion endowment fund, to be raised that orphan children of soldiers shall not pay the price of a nation's wars.

The opening move in the campaign was the appointment of William Randolph Hearst and seven other nationally known Californians to the national committee. These are Secretary of the Navy Curtis D. Wilbur, William G. McAdoo, Madame Schumann-Heink, John R. Quinn, Secretary Herbert Hoover, Mrs. Alma de Bretville Spreckels and Mrs. Herbert Hoover.

President Coolidge is honorary chairman of the endowment fund, and every member of the Coolidge cabinet has accepted memberships on the committee as heads of army, navy, and Marine Corps.

"California will respond as she has responded to every other great endeavor in the past, with open hands and generous heart," stated Commander Coombs in opening the drive.

"The principle of the endowment fund is not to be touched. The income will be used exclusively for the extension of the legion rehabilitation work and for the Legion program of child welfare.

"This is an effort which is entitled to the attention and devotion of every American who believes that the disabled veteran of the World War has a right to the devotion of a grateful country.

"The children must not be penalized because of their fathers' sacrifice in the war."

The Legion definitely plans to establish "billets" where soldiers' children will be under the adoption of their dead fathers' "buddies," the American Legionnaires. Three of these billets are already in existence one at Otter Lake, Michigan. One may be established in Sonoma Valley.

The fund will also go to re-establish with financial aid homes where the father is disabled and the mother unable to bear all the responsibilities.

It is not in dollars and cents, but in minds and bodies that service to the veterans themselves will be estimated. For the Legionnaires wish to answer the soldiers' cry to "help me to help myself," and to train and care for each veteran so that he may become independent again.

A RECORD RUN BY STAR CAR

Called hurriedly to Portland, Ore., because of his mother's death, D. R. Titus of Montrose, a suburb of Los Angeles, decided to beat the time of the fastest trains by making the trip in his Star car. He left Los Angeles on Wednesday, March 4th, at 2 p. m., and arrived in Portland on Friday, March 6th, at 4:30 p. m. His total elapsed time was 50 hours and 30 minutes.

The car, a 1923 model, had been driven previously over 20,000 miles. On the trip, Titus stopped only for coffee, sandwiches and gasoline, and averaged 25 miles to the gallon of fuel. He spent no money for repairs and had no tire trouble. His maximum speed in California was 37 miles per hour, and in Oregon 33 miles per hour.

Titus was caught in a snowstorm between Redding and Dunsmuir which lasted until he was within a few miles of Ashland.

Telegrams filed at Western Union offices at the start and finish testify to the remarkable time record he made, for which he praised the car highly, stating that only its ability to hold a stead pace, stand hard driving and occasional abuse, made the trip a success.

On the return trip he made the distance in 51 hours flat.

RETIRES FROM THE DAIRY BUSINESS

C. C. Champlin, who has been in the dairy business in Sonoma Valley for the past two years, has retired from the field and will engage in other business. Mr. Champlin found it unprofitable to purchase milk and resell it, and as his own ranch is leased, he decided to discontinue serving his customers.

Miss Nettie McConochie, the grammar school teacher, contemplates a trip East this summer via the Canadian Pacific. She will visit her brother and look after property interests while away.

REV. YORKE DIES IN SAN FRANCISCO

Father Peter C. Yorke, one of the best known Catholic priests of San Francisco and nationally recognized because of his activities in the church and on behalf of Ireland, died at 10:30 a. m. Monday of last week at the parish house at St. Peter's church, San Francisco, after a lingering illness.

Stricken last November, he gradually failed until he lapsed into unconsciousness last Monday.

According to Dr. A. T. Leopard, his physician, who has been his constant attendant, death came without pain or awakening.

Born in County Galway, Ireland, August 15, 1864, Father Yorke was ordained a priest when he was 23 years old. He had studied in Maynooth College, Ireland, and from the time he was ordained, contoinued a close student of the events of the day as well as of the lore of bygone years.

This attention to the current affairs of the world had much to do with his selection as editor of the Monitor, the Catholic newspaper in San Francisco, which was his first assignment after his ordainment. He also founded the Leader, an international Irish weekly.

Among his public services was the starting of the order of the League of the Cross Cadets. Another public service was the preparation of the great Catholic exhibit which won a gold medal at the Columbian Exposition in Chicago.

Approximately 75 club members will motor to the Sonoma Valley resort and the plans for the affair insure its success as one of the biggest parties yet to be staged by this junior Elks organization.

POLAR BEAR ENLIGHTENED

Editor Index-Tribune:

I was recently enlightened by the information that Vineburg had only one real ice cream parlor, despite the fact that your correspondent recently reported that we had too many ice cream emporiums down this way. As a matter of fact, we have an ice cream eating population in the vicinity of Vineburg and even tourists going through get the ice cream habit. It is reported that a former ice cream magnate of peaceful Vineburg paid the Napa creamery $740 two seasons ago for the drozen dainty served his customers, and only retired from business because he could make more money getting telephone calls, some of which netted him $1000. Now who wants to juggle ice cream cones or serve gasoline or be a correspondent for newspapers when you can be a political boss or an interpreter and pay an income tax? Ice cream is popular in Vineburg but you must be popular to get the play. Some ice cream kings we could crown and they should be. Eat your daily dozen.

POLAR BEAR.
